Suggestions

- Shop to buy accessories for profile stylization
    - Can gain currency in any way (i.e., utilizing the website and interacting)
        - Talk in public chat room or private chat room
        - Go to events like in person meet ups
        - Play games with others or by yourself
        - Watch media with others
        - etc.
    - Promote individuality amongst patients
    - Explore profiles that have similar interests as long as no personal information is seen.
    - Maybe incentivize patients to go and interact with the community in person by offering accessories/badges/etc. that are only available by attending the event.
- Somehow implement chatrooms to be accessed parallel to the current tab (aka watching a show or playing a game with someone but having to leave the show or game just to try and message them in the chatroom)
- Maybe a potential parent view that links their account with their child's if they are a minor, allowing parents to know of events or the type of people their child may interact with.
    - Allow parents to read information on doctors or nurses as well as alumni from their own account rather than needing the child's account.
- Chat Rooms with security to make sure no harassment or leaked private information occurs
